

MOHAI ANNUAL REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY

2023

MOHAI
MUSEUM OF HISTORY & INDUSTRY

Dear MOHAI Community,

I am honored to share this report highlighting MOHAI's services to the community in 2022.

As Seattle rebounded from the pandemic, 2022 proved to be one of the strongest years in MOHAI history, setting summertime attendance records, the return of on-site school groups, expanded community partnerships and a series of high-profile exhibits and special programs.

The museum returned to its seven-days-a-week schedule in 2022 and nearly half of museum attendees enjoyed the museum free of charge or at a discounted rate—including free admission for all visitors under age 15 and free or discounted admission for students, seniors, military, veterans, and those without the ability to pay. Through digital and in-person programs, MOHAI reached more than 120,000 people.

MOHAI's exhibits included Northwest and West Coast premieres on topics that ranged from the Renaissance to the digital age; from Leonardo Da Vinci to Ansel Adams. Our special programs included partnerships to honor Juneteenth with Delbert Richardson's The Unspoken Truths; a special lecture live from the studio of photographic legend Ansel Adams; and an Innovation Exchange that looked at the challenges of global climate change featuring former Secretary of the Interior Sally Jewell. Read more details in this report.

I am proud of what MOHAI accomplished in 2022 and honored to be working with our dedicated Trustees, Foundation Board, staff and community partners across the region. I am especially appreciative of our devoted members and generous donors whose steady support make MOHAI's work possible. Thank you all!

Leonard Garfield
MOHAI Executive Director

SPECIAL EXHIBIT

Da Vinci Inventions

2022 started at MOHAI with the West Coast premiere of Da Vinci Inventions—a stunning display of the inventions of the Renaissance genius. Curated by scholars and craftspeople in Italy and France, this special exhibition offered Seattle audiences one of the most comprehensive explorations of Leonardo Da Vinci's machine inventions ever mounted, featuring over 60 innovations based on his work, and offering a look inside the mind of the ultimate Renaissance Man. Da Vinci laid the groundwork for some of the world's most impactful inventions, including the helicopter, airplane, submarine, and parachute, providing visitors with a unique opportunity to appreciate Da Vinci's modern vision and his impact today.

Ansel Adams Masterworks and Perspectives on Place

In the summer of 2022, MOHAI presented a major exhibit of the powerful photographs of Ansel Adams, one of America’s most revered photographers, who profoundly influenced the course of 20th century photography through his lavish and technically precise images, as well as by his devotion to advancing photography as an art form and his commitment to the preservation of the American landscape. This exhibit featured fifty images photographed, printed, and selected by Adams himself before his death—images that he judged to be the best representation of his career. Called “The Museum Set,” the featured photographs revealed the importance Adams placed on the power of photography to convey the beauty, majesty, and fragility of the natural world.

MOHAI paired the Adams exhibit with Perspectives on Place, a community-curated exhibit drawing on the photographic collections of MOHAI and the Black Heritage Society. Community curators Ella Guo, Rachel Heaton, and Jourdan Imani Keith brought their insights as community activists and leaders to present historic images that challenged assumptions of untouched nature, explored cultural representation, and magnified the ever-changing relationship between the people of Puget Sound and the region’s landscape.

SPECIAL EXHIBIT

Artificial Intelligence: Your Mind & The Machine

In the Fall of 2022, MOHAI presented the West Coast premiere of Artificial Intelligence: Your Mind & The Machine, the first-ever traveling exhibit in the United States to focus on the evolution and potential of artificial intelligence, exploring the nature of AI, both its history and future. The exhibit presented the underlying principles of AI, from machine learning to voice recognition, and allowed visitors to experience an up-close look at “thinking machines” and investigate how AI is shaping our world and changing how we live. The show had particular resonance in our Puget Sound community, a historic and global hub for AI development.

A Public Commons

MOHAI's 2022 public programming included a community celebration of Juneteenth showcasing the work of historian Delbert Richardson; a retrospective of mountaineering legend Jim Whitaker; conversations about the history of the Central District; a community celebration of Jimi Hendrix's 80th birthday, complete with a display of his showstopping original performance costumes; and much more. The monthly History Café program was back in-person as well as online, welcoming audiences free-of-charge to learn from our region's established and emerging historians—co-presented with HistoryLink.org.

MOHAI's education programs returned to in-person learning as well, along with the continuation of a growing array of online resources for teachers, parents, and students. The Museum's Portable Museum trunks were deployed to classrooms around Puget Sound.

In addition, MOHAI continued to participate in accessibility programs like TeenTix, Museums for All and Seattle and King County Public Library museum pass programs. MOHAI also offered free transportation and scholarship support to students and teachers from classrooms around Puget Sound. MOHAI made all of its digital programs fully accessible and free of charge online, available remotely at any time and to any Wi-Fi-enabled location.

Social Networking

MOHAI continued to maintain a robust public communication program throughout 2022, including the museum website mohai.org (300,000 visits), the museum's Facebook (25,000 followers) and Instagram (11,000 followers) social sites and the museum's YouTube channel. In addition, MOHAI's popular biweekly electronic newsletter History at Home shared information with approximately 15,000 households each issue, featuring news from the museum and including updates, special opportunities and expanded digital offers. In addition, printed quarterly MOHAI brochures detailing all public exhibits, events, and programs were mailed to about 13,000 households in 2022.

In 2022, MOHAI received significant media coverage, highlighting its contributions to the community. The Seattle Times featured articles that delved into MOHAI's exhibits and events. The museum's exposure extended to 425 Magazine, Seattle magazine, Seattle Met magazine, and broadcast media including KING TV, KIRO TV, and KUOW. Additionally, MOHAI attracted international attention when CNN's Quest's World of Wonder filmed a segment at the museum at the end of the year.

Collections

One of MOHAI's most important roles is serving as steward of Seattle's past. The care and preservation of our growing collection of objects, including 100,000 artifacts and 4 million images and archival materials housed at the McQuaid MOHAI Resource Center, is a major undertaking.

In 2022, MOHAI's collections were featured in two exciting projects. Perspectives on Place: Photographs From Here featured photographs from the MOHAI collection that explored human and cultural relationships with nature. And MOHAI's inaugural Curator Fellow Brittany Frantece researched and analyzed photographs in MOHAI's Al Smith Collection to explore Black world building during the mid-20th century in the Pacific Northwest.

The collection continued to grow and MOHAI accessioned approximately 120 objects and 14 multi-faceted archival collections in 2022 including political ephemera, photos, artwork, sports artifacts, clothing, materials from major local events, and much more. One special acquisition came from Jim Whittaker, who was the first American to summit Mt. Everest in 1963. MOHAI received the ice axe, camera, and other items that he carried to the summit. These objects and many others are featured in MOHAI's online collection, which continues to grow, adding 450 new records and updating 100 more in 2022 alone.
